Jane Seymour

Actress, Artist & Philanthropist

A multiple Emmy and Golden Globe winner, and recipient of Officer of the British Empire, Jane Seymour has proven her talents in media, the Broadway stage, film, and television. An iconic star of the beloved TV series Dr. Quinn: Medicine Woman, she blazed a trail for family-worthy programming and became a role model to young women and girls throughout the world. Seymour has reached success throughout her career encompassing international movie stardom with such lasting films as Somewhere in Time and Live and Let Die. Seymour also served as an executive producer on the documentary film Glen Campbell...I'll Be Me, which told the touching story of musician Glen Campbell's farewell tour while he dealt with the effects of Alzheimer's disease.

In addition to acting and her business success, Seymour is an accomplished designer/artist and has written over a dozen books including Open Hearts, The Wave, The Road Ahead, and her autobiography, Remarkable Changes, profiling 20 personal stories, including her own, of experiencing positive transformation in the face of life-changing crisis.

Ms. Seymour will entertain and inspire us with her philosophy of how to live life with grace!
